

PRESS BRIEFING:

gendercc - women for climate justice

Friday, Dec 7, 2007, 2 - 2.30 pm
Press Conference Room, BICC

For the first time in UNFCCC history, a world wide coalition of women will present joint positions on the most pressing issues negotiated in Bali. Financing mitigation and adaptation, combating deforestation, and the future climate regime, these three issues will re-evaluated from a gender perspective. I. a., women hit the narrow focus on market based mechanisms, calling for sustainable and equitable financing schemes, and women strongly reject the limited perception of forests as carbon stores, proposing solutions taking account of the full value of forests for ecosystems and societies.

Activists from women's organisations and groups from Asia, Africa, Latin America, and Europe will explain women's doubts and demands.

Speakers:

- Ulrike Roehr, genanet - Focal Point Gender, Environment, Sustainability, Germany / coordinator of the global network gendercc - Women for Climate Justice
- Rachel Nampinga, Gender and Climate Change Network Afrika / Ecowatch Uganda
- Anastasia Pinto, Meitei Nation, India
- Ana Filippini, World Rainforest Movement, Uruguay

Contact during the conference:

roehr@genanet.de

Cell phone: +49.179.2031511

Information booth no 13 in the BICC exhibition area, 1. floor